

REMARKS

This broadened reissue application is being filed as a division of the pending Reissue application, which itself, followed the filing of a request for a Certificate of Correction and the issuance of a Certificate of Correction which includes some, but not all, of the subject matter set forth in the request.

More particularly, the Certificate of Correction (a copy is appended hereto as exhibit A) provides for corrections in the patent at column 9, line 12, in column 12, line 32 (corresponding to claim 1) and column 12, line 54 (corresponding to claim 4). These changes have been incorporated in the application as filed. Moreover, those changes with respect to the printed patent are not identified as changes since those changes were made by the Certificate of Correction of September 19, 2000.

The request for the Certificate of Correction (a copy attached as exhibit B) proposed, in addition to the foregoing, a change to claim 6, identified as a change to column 13. This proposal was not, however, incorporated in the Certificate of Correction of September 19, 2000. This correction is incorporated in this reissue application, and that change is shown by use of brackets and underlining in claim 6.

The changes to claim 6 are identical to claim 6 set forth in the Notice of Allowance (a copy of which is attached as exhibit C). In particular, page 3 under the heading "Examiner's Amendment" proposes changes to claim 9 in lines 3 and 4 (claim 9 became claim 6 in the patent). As set forth in the Interview Summary, this change was approved by the applicant.

The parent application was filed with the original patent claims 1-8 and added claims 9-98. Original claims 1-8 were allowed and claims 9-98 were finally rejected. This amendment cancels claims 1-8 (since those claims remain in the parent application). Claims 9-98 are cancelled in favor of new claims 99-163. Claims 99-163 include independent claims 99, 105, 111, 117, 123, 131, 137, 143, 149, 155 and 161. While applicant is firmly of the opinion that claims 9-98 patentably distinguished from the art cited against those claims in the parent application, the new claims 99-163 have been drafted to advance the prosecution. In particular all of the now pending claims include subject matter which was absent from the independent ones of the rejected claims 9-98. Each of claims 99-163 specify that source account information is related to user identification which, in turn, is related to the wireless device identification. No such subject matter is found in Hassett.

The Commissioner is hereby authorized to charge any fees, or credit any overpayment associated with this communication to Deposit Account No.: 22-0185.
